

Drowning In Shadows

James: lyrics.
James: guitars, bouzouki, mandolin, whistle, vocals.
Nigel: upright bass, pipe organ.

Comes a time when we must sit back
And take stock of all things
To give ourselves a measure
Of the hurt in life's stings
When the world seems like it's closing
Its grip upon your heart
And you get that dreadful feeling
Everything will break apart

Is this a feeling
That everyone knows
Or is it just me
Who is drowning in shadows?

I have reached a time in my life
When I want to just sit back
But the way the world is changing
Feels like I'm under attack
Most of those things that I have always
Held precious in my mind
Have drifted so far away
That I'm feeling left behind.

Is this a feeling
That everyone knows
Or is it just me
Who is drowning in shadows?

I don't know why everything seems askew
I wish I could say that I know what to do
I'm feeling I don't have the time to pull through
Or is it just me; does it happen to you?

Is this a feeling
That everyone knows
Or is it just me
Who is drowning in shadows?
