

Looking Out For Fate

James: lyrics.
James: guitar, Nashville guitar, bass, mandolin, vocals.
Nigel: drums.

I've lived a life both full and long
With all the ups and downs that could fill a song
But when those downs have felt too much
The fickle finger of fate has always left her touch

I'm looking out for fate,
Happenstance,
Serendipity,
Providence,
Good fortune,
Kismet or chance,
Karma,
Destiny.

There have been times that have rocked the boat
And we have wondered how to keep afloat
The waves have rolled in at such a rate
That the only way to bail'em out is to trust in fate.

I'm looking out for fate,
Happenstance,
Serendipity,
Providence,
Good fortune,
Kismet or chance,
Karma,
Destiny.

It may seem like a strange thing for us to pin our hopes
On something so insecure to keep us off the ropes
But the times that she has popped up when we were in a bind
Have made me realise that sometimes stars can be aligned

But this story has no happy end we can foresee
Life has got us tossed around like a ship in stormy sea
We've been waiting far too long for fortune to come our way
The rope has snapped, the tide has turned and we been cast away.

I'm looking out for fate,
Happenstance,
Serendipity,
Providence,
Good fortune,
Kismet or chance,
Karma,
Destiny.
